

Heat System

Two thermostatically controlled 1000 watt 220 volt industrial silicon rubber heater blankets are wrap around the circumference at the bottom of tank. The thermostat is located in the single electrical control panel. This method of heating heats evenly around the bottom of tank so the emulsion does not get scorched.

